The first time it took an hour to receive my order and the fries were cold as well as the burger luke warm and nobody came around to complain too. I have previously had the Dakota dunes burger and was good but I went 2 times in two weeks at the end of July. I went again the next week and order came after a 40 min wait and again the fries were cold and this time the burger bun was burnt black and again nobody came around and when I complained to the supervisor all they offered me was a desert, so eat before you go out there.
